

Successfully Defended Aluminum Manufacturer

Amundsen Davis defended an aluminum manufacturing and processing company in the largest OSHA case issues in 2017, with OSHA fines totaling nearly $2,000,000. Amundsen Davis succeeded in having 30 citations (worth $1 million) thrown out on a Fourth Amendment unlawful search and seizure argument in the largest OSHA case from 2017, forcing the case into a favorable settlement.

PROFESSIONALS

Kimberly A. Herring
Partner

Matthew Horn
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Manufacturing & Food
Processing