

Amundsen Davis Welcomes Attorney Sean Thompson to St. Charles Office

Firm News
May 8, 2024

We are excited to welcome Sean Thompson to the General Liability Service Group. A native of Wyoming, Sean is joining the team in our St. Charles office.

Sean represents clients in civil litigation, including premises liability and personal injury claims, as well as construction accidents. His clients work in various industries, including construction and insurance. He draws on his previous experience as a laborer with a commercial construction company, which allows him to relate to his clients and understand their issues.
