

Attorney Julie Line Joins Amundsen Davis's Chicago Office

Firm News
January 3, 2023

We are excited to welcome Julie Line to our Construction Service Group.

Julie joins as a partner in our Chicago office. She represents insurers and businesses in litigation matters involving property damage, business interruption and loss, personal injury, discrimination and failure to pay pursuant to contracts. Having previously worked as in-house counsel for large insurance companies, Julie understands the challenges facing her clients. Her experience as a respected, creative and aggressive subrogation lawyer on behalf of insurance company plaintiffs gives her the insight to help craft thorough and effective defense strategies when her clients are confronted with claims of negligence.
