

Illinois Chamber Tells IDOL Joint Employer Rule Unnecessary – Mike Hughes Provides Testimony to the Illinois Department of Labor (IDOL)

Media Mention

Illinois Chamber of Commerce Employment Law Council Newsletter
December 2020

Mike Hughes provided testimony to the Illinois Department of Labor (IDOL) in a virtual hearing on the proposed rule regarding joint employer designation. In response to the federal USDOL rule, IDOL filed a proposed rule that took a different approach to the joint employer issue in May, 2020. The Illinois Chamber provided written comments to the rule raising a number of concerns including:

- Notice is insufficient given the significant impact on business
- The proposed rule will have a significant negative impact on Illinois business especially small businesses
- The Department is not within its statutory authority

Mike pointed out in his testimony that the federal rule has been struck down by a NY federal court and while it is being appealed it is unlikely that an incoming Biden Administration will continue the appeal.

PROFESSIONALS

Michael F. Hughes
Partner

RELATED SERVICES

Employment Advice &
Counsel

Labor, Employment &
Immigration