

The Blade Credits Larry James as Architect of Dorr Street Corridor Project

Media Mention

The Blade

May 22, 2024

An effort to develop a historic overlay district reflective and reminiscent of the historic Dorr Street corridor in Columbus is underway. The Blade details The Legacy's Project's efforts and mentions Larry James as the architect of the Columbus project, stating that he has led the transformation. The overlay would require specific design standards for development and serve to protect the character of the area.

You can read the full article on The Legacy Project's efforts on The Blade's website.

PROFESSIONALS

Larry H. James
Partner