

Bradley Bonneau

Chief Financial Officer

202.719.3214

bbonneau@wiley.law

As Wiley's Chief Financial Officer, Brad is responsible for leading the firm's strategy in the areas of finance, profitability, and overall business operations. He directs a team of professionals across finance, accounting, and risk management functions, including financial planning and analysis, budgeting, reporting, pricing, compensation, tax, billing and collections, and conflicts. Brad works closely with the firm's Managing Partner and Executive Committee to evaluate, approve, and implement major initiatives that position the firm for long-term financial and operational success.

With more than 20 years of experience in accounting and finance, Brad brings a wealth of expertise in financial reporting, budgeting, and analysis, having held several leadership roles in the legal and corporate sectors.

Affiliations

- Association of Legal Administrators
 - Chicago Chapter Controller's Council
- Institute of Management Accountants

Credentials

Education

M.B.A., Purdue University
B.S., Northern Illinois University