

5G and Government Money

Wiley Connected

February 19, 2020

In this episode of Wiley's 5G Roadmap podcast series, we dive into the opportunity and perils of government investment in and purchase of tech and services in a 5G future. Brian Walsh, Tracye Howard, Megan Brown and Hap Rigby from Wiley's national security, telecom, and government contracts practices cover current events, congressional action, R&D grants, and contracting that will be part of the United States' 5G strategy.
