

A Discussion with GAO General Counsel Edda Emmanuelli Perez

Wiley Government Contracts

March 2, 2022

On today's episode of the Women in Government Contracting podcast, Wiley partners Tracie Howard and Kara Sacilotto are joined by Edda Emmanuelli Perez, General Counsel of the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO). Edda, who grew up in Puerto Rico and attended Georgetown Law, has built her career at GAO. Listen as the group discusses the GAO's broad mission and areas of expertise, how the attorneys at GAO support that mission, the GAO's role when working for Congress, Edda's responsibilities as General Counsel, and her time as Managing Director for Opportunity and Inclusiveness at the GAO.
