

Understanding the Latest EU Initiatives on Al and Data Policy – A Discussion with Peter Fatelnig

Wiley Connected
February 21, 2020

Peter Fatelnig, the EU lead in the U.S. on digital economy policies, provides his thoughts on the EU's announcement this week of its AI, data, and digital strategies, in an interview with Wiley attorneys Duane Pozza and Jacquelynn Ruff. He discusses the European Commission's AI White Paper, how potential AI regulations may be structured in Europe, how global businesses could be affected, other international implications of the proposed data policies, timelines for next steps, and more.

Related Professionals

Duane C. Pozza Partner 202.719.4533 dpozza@wiley.law Jacquelynn Ruff Consulting Counsel 202.719.3347 jruff@wiley.law

Practice Areas

Artificial Intelligence (AI) International & Internet

wiley.law 1