

Wiley's Health Care Contracting Chronicles

Transforming PBM Contracting: The Wiley Approach

In this episode of Wiley's Health Care Contracting Chronicles, hosts Jordan Ross and Brooke DeLoatch share how Wiley's innovative PBM contracting process helps health plans achieve better pricing, transparency, and efficiency. They outline the five key stages of the Wiley Competitive Contracting process, explain why early legal involvement is a game-changer, and discuss how this method drives meaningful negotiations. Tune in for actionable insights into mastering PBM contracts in a rapidly evolving marketplace.

Contact Us

For more information, please contact one of the attorneys listed below.

- Dorthula H. Powell-Woodson
- Brooke M. DeLoatch
- Jordan Ross

Wiley's Health Care Team

Dorthula H. Powell-Woodson; Brooke M. DeLoatch; Jordan Ross; Lukman Azeez; Kathryn Bucher; Kathleen E. Scott; Tatiana Sainati; Kathleen Cooperstein; Rebecca J. Fiebig; Melany Birdsong; Kelly Baugh; Amaru J. Sánchez

Related Professionals

Brooke M. DeLoatch
Associate
202.719.3765
bdeloatch@wiley.law
Jordan Ross
Associate 202.719.3264
jross@wiley.law

Practice Areas

Health Care
Health Care Contracting
Pharmacy Benefit Manager (PBM)
Contracting

Understanding Pharmacy Benefit Managers: The PBM Landscape Explained

In this episode of Wiley's Health Care Contracting Chronicles, hosts Jordan Ross and Brooke DeLoach introduce the complex world of Pharmacy Benefit Managers (PBMs) and their pivotal role in the healthcare industry. They explore the functions of PBMs as intermediaries between insurers, pharmaceutical companies, and pharmacies, detailing their responsibilities in managing drug benefits and negotiating prices. The discussion also addresses the growing concerns around transparency and regulatory oversight, highlighting recent legislative efforts aimed at reforming PBM practices. Tune in to gain foundational insights into the PBM landscape and what it means for healthcare contracting in the future.