

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19 20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CRAIG ISAACS, et al. ,)	Case No. 12cv0381 L (BGS)
Plaintiffs,)	ORDER GRANTING/DENYING
v.)	XMSJS [DOCS. 40, 42]
CHARTIS SPECIALTY INSURANCE) COMPANY,) Defendant.)

On February 2, 2012, Plaintiffs Craig Isaacs (“Isaacs”) and Nexus Wealth Management, Inc. (“Nexus”) commenced this action against Defendant Chartis Specialty Insurance Company (“Chartis”). This is an insurance coverage action which arises out of Chartis’s alleged failure to fulfill its obligations under a professional liability insurance policy which names Plaintiffs as insured parties. The parties have now filed cross-motions for summary judgment.

The Court found this motion suitable for determination on the papers submitted and without oral argument. (Doc. 50.); See Civ. L.R. 7.1(d.1). For the following reasons, the Court GRANTS/DENIES Defendant’s/Plaintiffs’ motion for summary judgment.

//
//
//

1 I. BACKGROUND

2 A. THE INSURANCE POLICY

3 This case arises from an insurance policy that Chartis issued to Geneos Wealth
4 Management, Inc. (“Geneos”). This “Securities Broker/Dealer Professional Liability Insurance” 5 Policy (the “Policy”) was in effect from July 1, 2010 to July 1, 2011. (Joint Statement of 6 Undisputed Facts [Doc. 42-2] ¶ 1.) Under the policy, Geneos is classified as a “Broker/Dealer”
7 and an “Insured.” (Id. ¶ 2.) Isaacs and Nexus are both classified as “Insured” and “Registered
8 Representative[s]” under the policy. (Id. ¶¶ 3, 4.)

9 The policy provides, in relevant part, as follows:

10 B. REGISTERED REPRESENTATIVE PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY
11 INSURANCE

12 This policy shall pay on behalf of a Registered Representative Loss arising from a 13 Claim first made against the Registered Representative during the Policy Period or 14 the Discovery Period (if applicable) and reported in writing to the Insurer pursuant 15 to the terms of this policy for any actual or alleged Wrongful Act committed by the 16 Registered Representative in the rendering or failure to render Professional 17 Services on behalf of the Broker/Dealer.

18 In the event a Registered Representative or Registered Representative Company is 19 providing investment advisory services and such services involve a securities
20 transaction that is to be completed through the Registered Representative or 21 Registered Representative Company but not through the Broker/Dealer, coverage
22 shall not be afforded by this policy for such activities unless prior to participating 23 in such activities, the Registered Representative provides written notice to and 24 receives approval from the Broker/Dealer.

25 In the event a Registered Representative or Registered Representative Company is 26 providing investment advisory services and such services do not involve a 27 securities transaction that is to be completed through the Registered Representative 28 or Registered Representative Company, coverage shall not be afforded by this policy for such activities unless the Registered Representative, prior to such services, provides written notice to the Broker/Dealer.

(Insurance Policy [Doc. 40-5] 37-38.) The policy defines “Wrongful Act” as “any act, error or omission by (1) Broker/Dealer, or by any director, officer, partner or employee thereof in their respective capacities as such, or (2) by any Registered Representative or Registered

1 Representative Company.” (Id. 37.) The policy defines “Professional Services” as follows:

- 2 (k) “Professional Services” mean the following services if rendered in 3 connection with an Approved Activity for or on behalf of a customer or 4 client of the Broker/Dealer pursuant to a written agreement between the 5 Broker/Dealer and the customer or client:
- 6 (1) purchase or sale of securities, including investment companies,
 - 7 (2) purchase or sale of annuities or variable annuities,
 - 8 (3) purchase of [sic] sale of life or accident and health insurance,
 - 9 (4) providing brokerage services for individual retirement accounts (IRAs), 10 Keogh retirement plans and employee benefit plans (other than multiple 11 employer or multiemployer welfare arrangements),
 - 12 (5) services performed as a registered investment adviser;
- 13 and in connection with or incidental to any of the foregoing 5 activities
- 14 (6) providing economic advice, financial advice or investment advisory 15 [services], or
 - 16 (7) providing financial planning advice including without limitation any of 17 the following activities in conjunction therewith: the preparation of a 18 financial plan or personal financial statements, the giving of advice relating 19 to personal risk management, insurance, savings, investments, retirement planning or tax.

20 (Id. 36.) An “Approved Activity” is defined as follows:

- 21 (a) “Approved Activity” means a service or activity performed by the 22 Registered Representative on behalf of the Broker/Dealer which:
- 23 (1) has been approved by the Broker/Dealer to be performed by the 24 Registered Representative, and is
 - 25 (2) in connection with the purchase or sale of a specific security, annuity or 26 insurance product which has been approved by the Broker/Dealer to be 27 transacted through the Registered Representative, and for which
 - 28 (3) the Registered Representative has obtained all licenses required by the

1 Broker/Dealer or applicable law or regulation.

2 (Id. 9.) The policy also includes a number of exclusions from coverage, including the following:

3 4. EXCLUSIONS

4 The Insurer shall not be liable for Loss in connection with any Claim amde against 5 an Insured:

6 . . .

7 (r) with respect to coverage provided under Coverage B only, alleging, arising out 8 of, based upon or attributable to any activity of, or services provided by, the 9 Registered Representative other than a covered Professional Services, including but not limited to “selling away”

10 (Id. 15.) Under the policy, Chartis has a “duty to defend”:

11 The Insurer shall have the right and duty to defend, subject to and as part of the 12 Limits of Liability, any Claim made against an Insured during the Policy Period or 13 Discovery Period (if applicable) and reported in writing to the Insurer pursuant to 14 the terms of this policy for any actual or alleged Wrongful Act for which coverage is afforded by this policy, even if any of the allegations of the Claim are groundless, false or fraudulent.

15 (*Id.*7.)

16 B. THE INSURANCE CLAIMS

17 The instant dispute over coverage under the policy stems from a lawsuit filed by Samuel 18 Robinson against Isaacs and Nexus for negligence and breach of fiduciary duty (“underlying 19 complaint”). On April 11, 2011, Robinson filed the underlying suit, alleging in relevant part as 20 follows:
21

- 22 8. In or about 2003, plaintiff attended a legal and tax seminar designed to 23 promote the professional services and specialized qualifications of J.
24 Douglass Jennings, APC., in areas of taxation, corporate law, retirement
25 planning, estate planning and real estate planning. Shortly thereafter, 26 plaintiff retained Jennings to perform legal and accounting services on his 27 behalf.
- 28 9. In or about April 2005, Jennings learned that plaintiff had received an inheritance of approximately $3 million dollars from his mother’s estate.
Almost immediately thereafter, Jennings introduced plaintiff defendant
ISAACS, who was described as an “independent financial adviser.”
- 10. ISAACS and Jennings have known each other since the 1970s. Jennings

1 described them as “very good friends.” . . . the precise nature of this 2 personal relationship, and its potential and actual effect on the so-called
3 “independent” financial advice and recommendations ISAACS and NEXUS 4 provided with respect to plaintiff’s investments in companies owned and/or operated by Jennings, were never disclosed.

5 . . .

6 12. On May 11, 2005, ISAACS, Jennings and plaintiff had a conference . . . to 7 review, analyze and discuss plaintiff’s estate planning, tax, corporate and 8 investment strategies.

9 13. On May 12, 2005, ISAACS, Jennings and plaintiff met . . . to discuss 10 advanced estate planning and investment issues.

11 14. On May 13, 2005, ISAACS, Jennings and plaintiff met . . . to review, 12 analyze and coordinate plaintiff’s estate planning, tax, corporate and 13 partnership matters, discuss advanced tax planning and investment planning 14 strategies, and discuss subscription agreements and investments in 15 companies owned and/or operated by Jennings, La Jolla Equities Income
16 Fund I and Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC.

17 15. During the May 13, 2005, meeting, Jennings purportedly discussed various 18 conflicts of interest created by the planned investment strategies in La Jolla
19 Equities Income Fund I and Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC., and 20 confirmed that plaintiff “is relying upon independent financial advice, as 21 [Jennings] has a conflict of interest.” Based upon the representations of 22 Jennings and ISAACS, and ISAACS’ active participation in the meetings, 23 plaintiff understood that ISAACS, through NEXUS, was acting as the 24 aforementioned “independent” financial adviser, and had assumed all of the 25 obligations of reasonable care and good faith attendant thereto.

26 16. Based upon defendants’ “independent” financial advice and 27 recommendations, on May 18, 2005, plaintiff invested $500,000.00 in La
28 Jolla Equities Income Fund I, a business entity over which Jennings exerted complete control.

17 . . .

18 17. Based upon defendants’ “independent” financial advice and 19 recommendations, on March 3, 2008, plaintiff invested $60,000.00 in La 20 Jolla Equities Income Fund I.

21 . . .

22 18. . . . La Jolla Equities Income Fund I was merely Jennings’ private “piggy 23 bank” used to fund, among other things, extravagant family vacations and 24 lavish personal business expenses. All of the funds invested by plaintiff in 25 La Jolla Income Fund I have been squandered.

26 19. Based upon the defendants’ “independent” financial advice and 27 recommendations, on May 16, 2005, plaintiff invested $500,000.00 28 Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC, a company formed by Jennings to acquire parcels of real property in Teton County, Jackson Hole, Wyoming. .

1 . For all intents and purposes, Investments of Jackson Hole is the alter-ego
2 of Jennings.

3 20. Plaintiff . . . failed [sic] receive a full and adequate disclosure of the actual 4 and likely conflicts of interest created by doing business with Jennings . . .
5 Plaintiff also failed to receive full and adequate disclosure of the actual and 6 potential risks of the investment.

7 . . .
8 22. Most, if not all, of the parcels acquired by Investments of Jackson Hole, 9 LLC., are in the process of foreclosure or have been foreclosed upon,
10 resulting in the loss of plaintiff's investment.

11 . . .
12 24. Since May 2005, and continuously thereafter, a business relationship
13 existed between plaintiff and defendants ISAACS and NEXUS. At all 14 times during the existence of the business relationship, with the full 15 knowledge of ISAACS and NEXUS, plaintiff relied completely upon their 16 skills and abilities to provide competent and accurate financial advice and 17 services related to his estate plan, including his investments in La Jolla
18 Income Fund I and Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC.

19 25. As a result of the business relationship between plaintiff and defendants
20 ISAACS and NEXUS, defendants had a duty to provide plaintiff with 21 independent financial advice and services with the reasonable care, skill, 22 and diligence possessed and exercised by ordinary financial advisors in 23 similar circumstances.

24 26. At all times relevant here, defendants, and each of them, failed to exercise
25 reasonable care and skill in undertaking to provide independent financial 26 advice and services on behalf of plaintiff by negligently, carelessly, and 27 recklessly failing to advise and otherwise disclose to plaintiff that the 28 investments were needlessly risky and inappropriate for a man of plaintiff's age and financial needs.

29 27. At all times relevant here, defendants, and each of them, failed to exercise
30 reasonable care and skill in undertaking to provide independent financial 31 advice and services on behalf of plaintiff by negligently, carelessly, and 32 recklessly engaging in or instructing plaintiff to engage in transactions that were detrimental and adverse to plaintiff's estate plan and financial health.

33 28. At all times relevant here, defendants, and each of them, failed to exercise
34 reasonable care and skill in undertaking to provide independent financial 35 advice and services on behalf of plaintiff by negligently, carelessly, and 36 recklessly failing to provide plaintiff with adequate information, analysis,
37 and evaluations regarding the investments and their effect on his estate 38 plan, and financial health, and by failed to ensure that the transactions were as stated, fully documented and completely explained.

39 . . .
40 32. Defendants ISAACS and NEXUS, and each of them, breached their

1 fiduciary duties to plaintiff by engaging in the acts and omissions herein-
2 above alleged in this Complaint.

3 (JSUF ¶ 5; Underlying Complaint [Doc. 40-7] Ex. 2, ¶¶ 8-10, 12-20, 22, 24-28, 32.) On April 4 13, 2011, Geneos timely reported the underlying complaint to Chartis. (JSUF ¶ 6.) On April 19, 5 2011, Chartis acknowledged receipt of this correspondence. (Letter Acknowledging Receipt
6 [Doc. 40-7] Ex. 3, 2.) The parties did not correspond again until October 26, 2011, when Chartis 7 sent a letter to Isaacs denying coverage under the policy. (October 26, 2011 Letter Denying 8 Coverage [Doc. 40-7] Ex. 4.)

9 Next, the underlying action was removed to the United States District Court for the 10 Southern District of California, the Honorable Janis L. Sammartino presiding. (ISUF ¶ 7.) Then, 11 on October 12, 2011, the district court granted Isaacs and Nexus's motion to compel arbitration 12 and stayed the proceedings pending the completion of arbitration. (Order Granting Mot. to 13 Compel Arb. [Doc. 40-7] Ex. 6.)

14 Shortly thereafter, on October 26, 2011, Chartis sent the aforementioned denial letter to 15 Isaacs. The letter laid out Chartis's rationale for denying coverage:

16 Samuel Robinson alleges that you encouraged him to invest in two investments, La
17 Jolla Equities Income Fund I and Jackson Hole, LLC. Mr. Robinson alleges that 18 the investments were unsuitable and that he has suffered and will continue to 19 suffer monetary damages. The Policy provides coverage to Registered 20 Representatives for alleged wrongful acts committed in the rendering or failing to 21 render a Professional Service on behalf of the Broker/Dealer. La Jolla Equities
22 Income Fund I and Jackson Hole, LLC are not investments approved by Geneos 23 Wealth Managemet; therefore there is no coverage for you, Craig Isaacs, or your 24 company Nexus Wealth Management, Inc. under the Policy. Please refer to 25 Definitions 2A–(Approved Activity)–amended in Endorsement 11, 2k-
26 Professional Services and Insuring Agreements (1B) of the Policy, which are 27 applicable.

28 Please refer to Exclusion (4f) of the Policy, which may be applicable. Exclusion
(4r) excludes coverage for claims arising from any activity provided by a Registered Representative other than a covered Professional Service. Also, the Plaintiff is seeking punitive damages in his complaint. Under the Policy, the Definition of Loss (2i) does not include punitive damages.

((October 26, 2011 Letter Denying Coverage 2.)

1 On November 8, 2011, Isaacs responded to the letter denying coverage with his own letter
2 explaining why he believed he was entitled to coverage. (Isaacs' Response to Chartis's
3 Denial [Doc. 40-7] Ex. 5.) In his response, Isaacs objected to Chartis's summary of the lawsuit 4 as insufficient, arguing that the "factual allegations of the complaint clearly include claims for 5 misfeasance that go well beyond your abbreviated summary of the complaint." (Id. 2.) First, he 6 argued that Chartis failed to identify that a continuous business relationship existed between 7 Isaacs, Nexus, and Mr. Robinson (Id.) Second, he argued that Mr. Robinson is suing for 8 professional services that go beyond the two investments in La Jolla Equities Income Fund I
9 ("La Jolla Equities") and Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC ("Jackson Hole"). (Id.) Third, he 10 suggested that, contrary to Chartis's position, Geneos did approve Isaac and Nexus' professional 11 services rendered apart from those services rendered with respect to La Jolla Equities and 12 Jackson Hole. (Id. 3.) In further support of his position, Isaacs enclosed three documents with 13 his letter: (1) an Advisory Services Contract between Mr. Robinson, Geneos, and Isaacs, dated 14 September 28, 2006, (2) an Investment Review prepared for Mr. Robinson by Isaacs on April 5, 15 2009, and (3) an copy of the October 12, 2011 order in the underlying case granting Isaacs'
16 motion to compel and staying the lawsuit pending arbitration (JSUF ¶ 11.)

17 On December 1, 2011, after receiving no response to his November 8 letter, Isaacs sent a 18 letter to Chartis. (JSUF ¶ 12.) This letter again demanded that Chartis "fully cooperate in the 19 defense of [the underlying lawsuit]" and enclosed invoices totaling over $56,000 for costs 20 incurred by Isaacs and Nexus in connection to the underlying suit. (Id.; Isaacs' December 1, 21 2011 Letter [Doc. 40-8] Ex. 9, 2.)

22 On December 14, 2011, after the underlying action was stayed, "Robinson filed a
23 Statement of Claim with the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA") thereby 24 commencing an aribtration proceeding against Isaacs, Nexus and Geneos" (the "FINRA 25 Arbitration). (JSUF ¶ 13.) The claims made by Robinson in the FINRA Arbitration were 26 essentially the same as those alleged in the underlying complaint. (Pls.' Mot. Summ. J. 8; Def.'s
27 Mot. Summ. J. 10; See FINRA Statement of Claim [Doc. 40-8] Ex. 11.) On December 20, 2011, 28 Isaacs reported the FINRA Arbitration to Chartis, and demanded that Chartis defend and

1 indemnify Isaacs and Nexus against the FINRA claims and requested a response to his
2 November 8, 2011 letter. (JSUF ¶ 14; Letter Notifying Chartis of FINRA Arbitration [Doc. 40-3 8] Ex. 11, 1.) On December 23, 2011, Chartis acknowledged receipt of the Statement of Claim.
4 (JSUF ¶ 15.) On January 23, 2012, Isaacs sent a letter to Chartis, again arguing that Chartis had 5 a duty to defend Isaacs and Nexus in connection with all of Robinson’s claims. (JSUF ¶ 16;
6 Isaac’s January 23, 2012 Letter to Chartis [Doc. 40-8] Ex. 13, 1.) On January 24, 2012, Isaacs
7 followed up with an email to Chartis. (January 23, 2012 Email to Chartis [Doc. 40-8] Ex. 14.)

8 On February 6, 2012, Chartis sent another denial letter to Isaacs. (JSUF ¶ 17.) The letter
9 reiterated Chartis’s position that they were not obligated to cover Isaacs and Nexus for the 10 underlying claims:

11 [T]he coverage promise for the Registered Representatives clearly and 12 unambiguously limits coverage to wrongful acts “in the rendering or failure to 13 render Professional Services on behalf of the Broker/Dealer.” The policy defines 14 “Professional Services” to required that the service be rendered “in connection 15 with an Approved Activity.” Approved Activities must be “in connection with the 16 purchase or sale of a specific security, annuity or insurance product which has 17 been approved by the Broker/Dealer to be transacted through the Registered 18 Representative.”

19 Neither La Jolla Equities Fund I, nor Jackson Hole, LLC are approved products. . .
20 . Since neither La Jolla Equities Fund I, nor Jackson Hole, LLC are approved 21 products, Mr. Isaacs’ investment advice to Mr. Robinson is not covered by the 22 policy.

23 (Chartis’s February 6, 2012 Denying Coverage [Doc. 40-9] Ex. 15, 4-5.) The letter also 24 repeated that the claims were also subject to Exclusion 4(r). (Id. 5.) The letter did not mention
25 whether or not it would cover Isaacs and Nexus with respect to the FINRA Arbitration. (See id.)

26 On March 23, 2012, Isaacs was served with an Amended Statement of Claim in the 27 FINRA Arbitration. (JSUF ¶ 18.) The Amended State of Claim added additional claims, 28 including allegations regarding two additional investments made by Robinson, which were both Geneos-approved securities. (Amended FINRA Statement of Claim [Doc. 40-8] Ex. 16, 5.) On March 28, 2012, Isaacs forwarded the Amended Statement of Claim to Chartis. (JSUF ¶ 19.)
On April 27, 2012, and then again on May 18, 2012, Isaacs sent two follow-up letters to Chartis.

1 On June 12, 2012, Chartis sent a letter to Isaacs accepting the defense of the Amended Statement
2 of Claim, as of March 28, 2012, the date the new claims were tendered to Chartis. (Chartis's
3 June 12, 2012 Letter Accepting Defense of Amended FINRA Statement of Claim [Doc. 40-11]
4 Ex. 20, 1.)

5 On February 10, 2012, Isaacs and Nexus filed the instant Complaint, alleging (1) breach 6 of contract and (2) breach of implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing and requesting 7 declaratory relief. (Compl. [Doc. 1].) On March 7, 2012, Chartis filed a motion to dismiss.
8 (MTD [Doc. 4].) On May 10, 2012, the Court granted the parties' joint motion, which stayed the 9 case pending non-binding mediation and dismissed the pending motion to dismiss. (Joint 10 Motion [Doc. 10]; May 10, 2012 Order [Doc. 12].) On January 24, 2012, after unsuccessful
11 mediation, the Court lifted the stay. (Order Lifting Stay [Doc. 25].)

12 On June 25, 2013, Isaacs filed the instant motion for partial summary judgment. (Pls.'
13 Mot. Summ. J.) On July 29, 2013, Chartis filed a cross-motion for summary judgment and 14 opposition to Isaacs' motion. (Def.'s Mot. Summ. J.) Both motions are fully briefed.
15 Essentially, the parties dispute whether or not Chartis breached its contractual duty to defend 16 Isaacs and Nexus with respect to the underlying complaint and the original FINRA Statement of 17 Claim. Isaacs and Nexus contend that Robinson's claims should have been defended under the 18 Policy, and Chartis claims that the claims were outside the policy and otherwise excluded from 19 coverage.

20 21 II. LEGAL STANDARD

22 Summary judgment is appropriate under Rule 56(c) where the moving party demonstrates 23 the absence of a genuine issue of material fact and entitlement to judgment as a matter of law.
24 See Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c); Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322 (1986). A fact is material
25 when, under the governing substantive law, it could affect the outcome of the case. Anderson v.
26 Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986); Freeman v. Arpaio, 125 F.3d 732, 735 (9th Cir.
27 1997). A dispute about a material fact is genuine if "the evidence is such that a reasonable jury
28

1 could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 248.

2 A party seeking summary judgment always bears the initial burden of establishing the 3 absence of a genuine issue of material fact. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 323. The moving party can 4 satisfy this burden in two ways: (1) by presenting evidence that negates an essential element of 5 the nonmoving party’s case; or (2) by demonstrating that the nonmoving party failed to make a 6 showing sufficient to establish an element essential to that party’s case on which that party will 7 bear the burden of proof at trial. Id. at 322-23. “Disputes over irrelevant or unnecessary facts
8 will not preclude a grant of summary judgment.” T.W. Elec. Serv., Inc. v. Pac. Elec. Contractors
9 Ass’n, 809 F.2d 626, 630 (9th Cir. 1987).

10 “The district court may limit its review to the documents submitted for the purpose of 11 summary judgment and those parts of the record specifically referenced therein.” Carmen v. San 12 Francisco Unified Sch. Dist., 237 F.3d 1026, 1030 (9th Cir. 2001). Therefore, the court is not 13 obligated “to scour the record in search of a genuine issue of triable fact.” Keenan v. Allen, 91
14 F.3d 1275, 1279 (9th Cir. 1996) (citing Richards v. Combined Ins. Co. of Am., 55 F.3d 247, 251
15 (7th Cir. 1995)). If the moving party fails to discharge this initial burden, summary judgment 16 must be denied and the court need not consider the nonmoving party’s evidence. Adickes v. S.H.
17 Kress & Co., 398 U.S. 144, 159-60 (1970).

18 If the moving party meets this initial burden, the nonmoving party cannot defeat summary
19 judgment merely by demonstrating “that there is some metaphysical doubt as to the material
20 facts.” Matsushita Electric Indus. Co., Ltd. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 586 (1986); 21 Triton Energy Corp. v. Square D Co., 68 F.3d 1216, 1221 (9th Cir. 1995) (“The mere existence 22 of a scintilla of evidence in support of the nonmoving party’s position is not sufficient.”) (citing 23 Anderson, 477 U.S. at 242, 252). Rather, the nonmoving party must “go beyond the pleadings” 24 and by “the depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file,” designate “specific 25 facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.” Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324 (quoting Fed. R.
26 Civ. P. 56(e)).

27 When making this determination, the court must view all inferences drawn from the 28

1 underlying facts in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party. See Matsushita, 475 U.S. at 2 587. “Credibility determinations, the weighing of evidence, and the drawing of legitimate 3 inferences from the facts are jury functions, not those of a judge, [when] he [or she] is ruling on 4 a motion for summary judgment.” Anderson, 477 U.S. at 255.

5 6 III. DISCUSSION

7 A. Did Chartis have a duty to defend against the underlying complaint?

8 There is no dispute that a portion of the underlying complaint addresses Plaintiffs’ actions
9 with respect to the La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole investments, which were not Geneos
10 approved securities. And there is no dispute that these claims are not covered by the Policy.
11 Instead, the parties disagree as to the scope of the underlying complaint and whether it triggered 12 Chartis’ duty to defend. Plaintiffs contend that “the allegations of the original complaint were 13 sufficiently broad to trigger Chartis’ duty to defend.” (Pls.’ Mot. Summ. J. 12.) They also 14 suggest that Chartis interpreted the complaint far too narrowly. (Id. 13.) Chartis’s position is 15 that “the Underlying Complaint only alleges claims against Isaacs/Nexus arising from the La
16 Jolla Equities Income Fund I and Jackson Hole LLC investments” and “did not allege any facts 17 whatsoever regarding any other investments by Robinson.” (Def.’s Mot. Summ. J. 17.) The 18 Court agrees with Plaintiffs.

19 Under California law, in order to trigger an insurer's duty to defend, “the insured need 20 only show that the underlying claim may fall within policy coverage.” Montrose Chemical Corp.
21 v. Superior Court, 6 Cal. 4th 287, 300 (1993) (emphasis in original). “[T]he insurer must prove it
22 ‘cannot.’ ” Id. (emphasis in original). This is so even if a claim is “insubstantial” and would not 23 support an award of damages. Horace Mann Ins. Co. v. Barbara B., 4 Cal. 4th 1076, 1086
24 (1993), as modified on denial of reh'g, (May 13, 1993). “Once the defense duty attaches, the 25 insurer is obligated to defend against all of the claims involved in the action, both covered and 26 uncovered, until the insurer produces undeniable evidence supporting an allocation of a specific 27 portion of the defense costs to a non-covered claim.” Id. at 1081. The duty arises as soon as 28

1 tender is made, and is discharged when the action is concluded. Montrose Chemical, 6 Cal.4th
2 at 295. It may be extinguished earlier, if it is shown that no claim can in fact be covered. Id.

3 To protect an insured's right to call on the insurer's "superior resources for the defense of 4 third party claims ... California courts have been consistently solicitous of insureds' expectations
5 on this score." Montrose Chemical, 6 Cal. 4th at 295-96. Any doubt as to whether the facts
6 establish the existence of the defense duty must be resolved in the insured's favor. Id. at 299-300

7 The determination whether the insurer owes a duty to defend is usually made in the first 8 instance by comparing the allegations of the complaint with the terms of the policy. See 9 Montrose Chemical, 4 Cal. 4th at 295. Facts extrinsic to the complaint also give rise to a duty to 10 defend when they reveal a possibility that the claim may be covered by the policy. Id.
11 Furthermore, an insurer must undertake a reasonable investigation into the circumstances of the 12 claim before denying coverage. Am. Int'l Bank v. Fidelity and Deposit Co., 49 Cal. App. 4th 13 1558, 1571 (1996).

14 1. Robinson's claims in the underlying complaint are not limited to 15 allegations arising from La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole.

16 In the underlying complaint, Robinson alleged that he relied upon Plaintiffs "to provide 17 competent and accurate financial advice and services related to his estate plan, including his 18 investments in La Jolla Income Fund I and Investments of Jackson Hole, LLC." (Underlying 19 Complaint ¶ 24.) A plain reading of these allegations shows that Robinson's claims go beyond 20 the La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole investments. By saying that his claims "include" these 21 investments, it necessarily implies that Robinson's claims were not limited to those specific 22 investments. He goes on to allege that Plaintiffs breached their duties of reasonable care to 23 provide financial advice, without mentioning any specific investments. (Id. ¶¶ 25 - 28.) Thus,
24 from even a cursory review of the underlying complaint, it is clear that Robinson's allegations
25 are not limited only to Plaintiffs' actions regarding the La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole 26 investments. Therefore, Chartis's argument that the underlying complaint "only alleges claims .
27 . . arising from the La Jolla Equities Income Fund I and Jackson Hole LLC investments" fails.
28

1 The Court must now determine if Robinson’s claims unrelated to these specific investments
2 triggered Chartis’s duty to defend.

3 2. Robinson’s claims unrelated to La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole
4 triggered Chartis’s duty to defend.

5 The Policy covered claims against Plaintiffs for “any actual or alleged Wrongful Act
6 committed by the Registered Representative in the rendering or failure to render Professional 7 Services” on behalf of Geneos. (Insurance Policy 37.) “Professional Services” include, inter
8 alia, the provision of “economic advice, financial advice or investment advisory [services]” as 9 long as the following conditions were met: these services were given “in connection with or 10 incidental to” the “(1) purchase or sale of securities, including investment companies, (2)
11 purchase or sale of annuities or variable annuities, . . . (5) services performed as a registered
12 investment adviser” and “in connection with an Approved Activity.” (Id. 36.) An “Approved 13 Activity” must be “in connection with the purchase or sale of a specific security, annuity or 14 insurance product which has been approved by the Broker/Dealer to be transacted through the 15 Registered Representative.” (Id. 9.)

16 The coverage framework explained above is a bit convoluted, but can be broken down
17 into manageable parts. First, a claim under the Policy is covered if the Registered 18 Representative is alleged to have committed a “Wrongful Act.” There is no dispute that the 19 underlying complaint alleged that Plaintiffs, who were Registered Representatives, committed 20 various “Wrongful Acts.” (See Insurance Policy 37; Underlying Complaint ¶¶ 24-28, 32.)

21 Second, the “Wrongful Act” must be committed while rendering, or failing to render, 22 “Professional Services.” To qualify as “Professional Services,” the alleged wrongful acts must 23 meet a number of requirements. The “Professional Services” must be “economic advice, 24 financial advice, or investment advisory [services]” and rendered “in connection or incidental to 25 “the purchase or sale of securities, including investment companies.” The underlying complaint 26 explicitly alleges that Plaintiffs provided what amounts to “economic advice, financial advice, or 27 investment advisory [services]” to Robinson, including “financial advice and services.”
28

1 (Underlying Complaint ¶¶ 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.) It is also clear from the underlying complaint
2 that these services were rendered in connection with the “purchase or sale of securities,
3 including investment companies.” (Id.)

4 Third, and finally, these “Professional Services” must be “in connection with an 5 Approved Activity” to trigger a duty to defend. This last requirement is where the battle lines
6 have been drawn in this case. It is true, as Defendants repeatedly proclaim, that the underlying 7 complaint does not explicitly mention any Geneos-approved investments. (Defs.’ Mot. Summ. J.
8 16-17; Defs.’ Reply [Doc. 48] 2.) Defendants essentially argue that because Plaintiffs cannot 9 point to any explicit mention of Geneos-approved investments in the underlying complaint,
10 Defendants had no duty to defend. This narrow and incomplete line of argument parallels 11 Defendants equally restricted and inadequate interpretation of the underlying complaint and the 12 Policy.

13 Plaintiffs do not need to explicitly plead that Geneos-approved investments were the 14 subject of the “Professional Services” rendered. Instead, they need only present extrinsic
15 evidence that demonstrates the “that the underlying claim may fall within policy coverage.”
16 Montrose Chemical Corp., 6 Cal. 4th at 300. By showing that Defendants were aware of 17 Robinson’s broad allegations of misconduct by Plaintiffs, who were working with and for 18 Geneos at the time of the allegations, Plaintiffs have met this burden. These allegations were 19 enough to put Chartis on notice that Robinson could potentially seek damages for Plaintiffs 20 conduct in connection with approved Geneos investments, especially in light of the fact that 21 Plaintiffs had indeed sold Robinson Geneos approved investments which were subject to the 22 underlying complaint. (Isaacs Decl. [Doc. 40-3] ¶ 5-11, 15.) Once put on notice, the burden
23 shifted to Chartis, and it was not sufficient for Chartis to respond by saying that it had no duty to 24 defend based on the narrow reasoning that La Jolla Income and Jackson Hole were not Geneos-
25 approved. See id. (holding that once insured shows that duty to defend may apply, insurer may 26 only refuse to defend if it can prove that the duty to defend cannot apply). Instead, under 27 California law, Chartis should have investigated Robinson’s broad allegations of misconduct in 28

1 order to establish that the duty to defend could not apply. See Safeco Ins. Co. Of America v.
2 Parks, 170 Cal. App. 4th 992, 1003 (2009) (“[A]n insurer cannot reasonably and in good faith
3 deny payments to its insured without thoroughly investigating the foundation for its denial.”
4 [citations omitted]); see also Jordan v. Allstate Ins. Co., 148 Cal. App. 4th 1062, 1074-75 (2007)
5 (“An insurance company may not ignore evidence which supports coverage. If it does so, it acts
6 unreasonably towards its insured and breaches the covenant of good faith and fair dealing.”);
7 Shade Foods, Inc. v. Innovative Products Sales Marketing, Inc., 78 Cal.App.4th 847, 882 (2000)
8 (the record “suggests that [the insurer] looked the other way when confronted with facts
9 revealing the possibility of first party coverage, resisting both reasonable interpretation of policy
10 language and a compelling history of negotiation to secure this coverage”); Amadeo v. Principal 11 Mut. Life Ins. Co., 290 F.3d 1152, 1163 (9th Cir. 2002) (even assuming the insurer's
12 interpretation of its policy was not adopted in bad faith, its failure to investigate the facts
13 surrounding the claim was evidence of bad faith.) There is no evidence in the record that Chartis
14 did any investigation into Robinson’s claims. Instead, Chartis simply, and improperly, denied 15 Plaintiffs claims because they did not explicitly mention a Geneos-approved security.

16 In light of the foregoing, the Court finds that the underlying complaint triggered Chartis’s
17 duty to defend, and that Chartis breached its contractual duties to the Plaintiffs.¹ Therefore, the 18 Court GRANTS Plaintiffs motion for partial summary judgment and DENIES Defendants
19 motion for summary judgment.² Because the Court finds that the duty to defend was triggered 20 by the underlying complaint, the Court also finds that Chartis had a duty to defend against the 21 original FINRA Statement of Claim as the parties agree that the allegations therein are 22 essentially the same as those in the underlying complaint.

23
24 ¹Defendants also argue that they are shielded from liability under Exclusion r. (Defs.’ 25 Mot. Summ. J. 20.) This is essentially a restatement of their main argument, and fails for the same reasons as outlined above.

26 ²Defendants also move for summary judgment on Plaintiffs’ bad faith claims. (Defs.’
27 Mot. Summ. J. 23.) This entire argument depends on Plaintiffs’ breach of contract claims being 28 denied. Since they have not been, the Court DENIES Defendants’ motion on this ground as well.

1 IV. CONCLUSION & ORDER

2 In light of the foregoing, the Court GRANTS Plaintiff’s motion for partial summary
3 judgment and DENIES Defendants motion for summary judgment.

4

5 IT IS SO ORDERED.

6

7 DATED: March 31, 2014

8

9

10

M. James Lorenz

11

United States District Court Judge

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28